

After a typical Polish breakfast in the morning we started our journey to Gdynia at 8.30 am. We went to Gdynia by coach and after a one-hour-long trip we arrived. I could only see some parts of Gdynia but in my opinion it's a beautiful city with a quite big harbour.

Our tour in Gdynia started with the visit of two big ships, unfortunately I don't remember their names.

One of them was an Old war ship of the Polish army in the Second World War. The other one was a school ship which was used to educate young seamen.

Shortly after we had left the ships we went to the marine academy of Gdynia that is specialised in studying the sea and the education of young seamen. The planetarium, which was also very interesting, was about astronomy and navigation. After the visit of a ship-simulator, which was located in the academy, we went to a restaurant nearby. In my opinion the traditional food there was very good and I think everybody enjoyed it.

After lunch we had some free time, in which we took some photos of the impressive harbour and visited the shopping-mall there.

At 5 pm we left Gdynia and drove back to Tczew. After arriving in Tczew we had a nice evening.
